THE FAIR

Everything is in readiness for the County Fair next week. Wonders have been accomplished in the past few months in the way of preparation, buildings, track, grandstand, roads and generally beautifying what is destined to be the finest fair ground in this or any other state.

It looks now it will be preeminently a stock show. Entries are coming in not alone from our own local people, but from Greenbrier county, from Virginia, Ohio, and even as far as New York State.

The State Agricultural Department will have a State Exhibit that will be a fair in itself.

S. B. Wallace, the president for the past four months has given most of his time to the project, ably assisted and enthusiastically backed by the other members of the Executive Committee. On Monday the secretary, C. K. Livesay, moved into his office on the Fair grounds and is giving his entire time to the business of the Fair.

Come to the Fair. It will be well worth your while. It is a county enterprise with hundreds of share holders, no one person owning more than $100 worth of stock. Come and bring something.

The officers and their assistants, the policemen, concession men and the Boy Scouts have been schooled in the matter of giving information to any and all persons. If they don't know what is asked them, they will tell you to go to the office under the grandstand and show you how to get there. Everything possible is being done for the comfort and convenience of the visitors. For instance, articles of merchandise sold on the grounds will be sold at the regular prices charged elsewhere.

VAN REENAN-GILMORE

Married, at the parsonage at Edray, Monday, August 14, 1922, John Gilbert VanReenan and Mrs. Elsie Sue Gilmore, by Rev. C. A. Powers, officiating minister.

Frederick Collins died at his home in Charleston, August 14, 1922, aged about 60 years. He was a native of Maine, and had worked for many years in the woods of this county. No particulars have been received concerning his last sickness. He is survived by his wife, whose maiden name was Miss Annie Moran. Burial on Wednesday afternoon at the Buckeye graveyard, the service being conducted by Rev. H. H. Orr.

The revival at Sharon Methodist church closed on last Sunday evening. The pastor, Rev. W. Clark Early was assisted by Rev. H. M. Roane of Staunton, Va., who out of a rich experience, preached heart search messages and was used of God in lifting the spiritual life of the church. There were sixteen conversions. Prof. J. M. Rossius, of Locust, in a very commendable manner led the singing and rendered excellent assistance in solo work.

WOMEN'S MEETING

Delegates from the various Women's Auxiliaries of the Presbyterian churches of Pocahontas met at Marlinton on Tuesday, and had an all day meeting. Speakers from a distance were Mrs. William Echols and Mrs. W. G. Smith, both of Alderson. Mrs. Echols is President of the Greenbrier Presbyterian. She is taking a course in theology at Union Seminary in Richmond. The following delegates from out of town enrolled:

Greenbank—Mrs. W. A. Gladwell, Mrs. D. M. Monroe

SPECIAL SERVICES

Arrangements have been made with Evangelist Rev. J. L. Fowie and his musician and co-worker Marcel Tremain to have them come to Huntersville for a series of Evangelistic Services in the Presbyterian Church, September 4-17. Marked success has attended the evangelistic work of these men in the Synod of W. Va. this summer. Huntersville and the surrounding country is indeed fortunate to secure these men for two weeks in September, and everyone who can possibly arrange to attend these services has a real religious treat in store. Keep the date, September 4-17, in mind.

COWHERD-BEVERAGE

A quiet, but beautiful wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Beverage of Stony Bottom, on July 15, 1922, when their eldest daughter, Miss Mabel, became the bride of Capt. F. L. Cowherd, of Huntington. Rev. Underwood of Deepwater, W. Va., was officiating minister. The bride is a beautiful and popular young lady of Stony Bottom, and will be missed by her many friends. The groom is a conductor on the Huntington trains; where Mr. and Mrs. Cowherd will make their future home. Their many friends wish them a long and happy life.

CHAUTAUQUA

Tickets for the Pocahontas Chautauqua at Marlinton, September 4 to 8th, are now on sale. The price is $3. and by single admission the cost is $8. Good business prompts the buying of season tickets. There is another reason. Chautauqua comes to this town by a lot of public spirited men guaranteeing the sale of a certain number of season tickets. These tickets must all be sold before Chautauqua opens, or the deficit made up in cash from the pockets of the guarantors. The sale of single admissions goes direct to the Chautauqua people, and does not help the local guarantors.

Don't be a traitor. Show your loyalty to your town people by buying your Chautauqua tickets from home folks.
